

END OF YEAR RECAP

• quarterly international clout achieved // 4 international trips

• met someone // goal and value alignment :)

• best things i've eaten // liege waffles from: maison dandoy (brussels), fermented baby shrimp sauce from candlenut (singapore), scallops from ju-ni (sf), agnolotti from lilia (nyc)

• podcasts i kept talking about // the goblet wire, gastropod

• books i think about //

- my brilliant friend series: complexities and turmoil of being a woman against the backdrop of sociopolitical turmoil in 50s-70s Italy
- locked tomb series: lesbians necromancers in space with delightfully weird and almost meaty writing
- kitchen: banana yoshimoto scratches my itch of needing to consume media that articulates distinct japanese intensity and celebration of the mundane
- the sixth extinction: another reminder of the threat humans are posing to the diversity of species, especially amphibians!!!!
